DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over DE 1926441, cited by Applicant in view of U.S. Pat. No. 3,563,592 to Preston.

The DE'441 patent publication discloses a crop divider (3) for a harvesting assembly. The crop divider is provided with a deflector that is mounted to the harvesting assembly by a pivot link having a pivot axis (6). The deflector is pivoted about the pivot axis from an operating position (Fig. 2) to a transport position (Fig. 1). The pivot link is mounted on a first (2) and second (3) tube. The deflector has a locking mechanism (Fig. 5, 15) for locking the deflector in the operating position. However, the locking mechanism in DE'441 is not the type with an arresting element that is a hollow cylinder slidably positioned to slide on the first tube and the second tube.

Like DE'441, Preston is solving the same problem of locking a device that has two links (12, 14) that are connected by a pivot (29). However, the locking mechanism in Preston includes an arresting element (42) that sides on the links and encloses the link on both sides of the pivot axis when locked. Springs (44) bias the arresting element into locking position. Preston teaches that this locking mechanism is simple and securely immobilizes the joint. Col. 1, lines 6-15.

Art Unit: 3671

Given the suggestion in Preston, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to replace the locking mechanism of DE'441 with the locking mechanism as in Preston, in order to increase ease of use.

Regarding the "hollow cylinder" limitation, in the combination, one of ordinary skill in the art would make the arresting element (42) of Preston would be made cylindrical since the links in DE'441 are tubes.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 5-8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground of rejection.

Applicant added the new limitation that the arresting element was a "hollow cylinder." This limitation was not previously recited in any of the claims.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 3671

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
